

I would like to open up a business and provide wireless broadband service to this and other closeby rural areas. I have been told that I could spend lot's of money developing this and someone else could come in later and interfere with my frequency and there is nothing I nor the FCC could do about it. Is this correct????
Thank you for your time.